WOMAN FOUND GUILTY OF A LARCHNY COM-MITTED Two YEARS AGO.—Some time during the year 1858, about seventy-five dollars worth of jewelry was stolen from a woman named Carney, residing at No. 136 Frontnamed Carney, residing at No. 136 Frontstreet. Catharine O'Hara was charged with the crime, and the matter was investigated before the Police Court, but for want of evidence was dismissed. A few days ago while engaged in a verbal quarrel with some of her neighbors, the theft was alluded to in such a manner as to induce Mrs. Carney, now Mrs.
Daugherty, to believe that the charge could now be substantiated. Accordingly a warrant was again issued for the arrest of Mrs.
O'Hara, and the case was examined yesterday afternoon before Justice McFall, who committed the defendant in default of bail in the sum of $300 to await trial before the next term of the Court of Common Pleas.

Violent Assault Upon an Officer.—
Joseph Derrell, constable of the Seventh Ward, having a judgment against a man named Findlay Doshney, residing on Richmond-street, near Baymiller, yesterday went to his house, and levied upon a sewing machine to satisfy the claim, whereupon Doshney, in company with his wife, made a violent assault upon the officer, and injured him quito severely. Mrs. D. used a large knife very freely, and inflicted several wounds upon Derrell, which, although not at all dangerous are exceedingly painful. Justice Harris issued a warrant for the arreas of the assailing parties, charging them with assault with intent to kill, and interfering with the officer, and held them to bail for their appearance this afternoon.

Immense Losses on the River Seventyfive Lives and Seventy-two Coal Bosta Loss Several Steamers Wrecked.
It is almost impossible to detail the loss of life and property caused by the torando of Monday afternoon. From every point of the compass news have reached us of the work of destruction, which seems to have been far more terrible than could have been imagined, judging from that which occurred in our immediate vicinity. Minor details, therefore, we omit, and simply give a general summary.

DAMAGE IN THE SUBURES.

DANAGE IN THE SUBURNS.

The entire roof of the southern wing of the new Lunstic Asylum at Carthage, was carried away, together with that of the gashouse and one of the female wards. The interior was then left open, and the carpeta, floors, main stairway, and the skrubbery in the yards were injured to such an extent that $20,000 will not cover the loss.

One side of the Episcopalian Church at Walnut Hills was blown out several houses.

One side of the Episcopalian Church at Walnut Hills was blown out; several houses were unroofed; a number of trees blown down, and the boarding-house connected with Lane Seminary was considerably damaged.

The storm in the neighborhood of Pleasant Ridge and Madisonville was very severe, and much damage done that can not be reported without larger space than our over-crowded columns afford.

At Chestot the following and approximately

At Cheviot the toll-gate and numerous outhouses were demolished, fruit and ornamental trees were prostrated; near the Millcreek Bridge a house was blown from its foundation, and throughout the entire neighborhood the tornado raged with a force that was truly terrific. terrific.
The Union and Placerville Bridge, recently built, was unroofed, and otherwise seriously damaged.
At Duck-creek almost an entire forest was

At Duck-creek almost an entire forest was prostrated by the wind.

The Catholic Church at Mt. Adams was damaged to the extent of at least, $500.

The lightning struck a Catholic Church in Reading, and partially demolished the edifice, scattering the timber in every direction.

HARRISON BRIDGE UNROOPED.

The bridge across the Whitewater River, at Harrison, was seriously damaged. About two-thirds of the roof was blown off, and the weather-boarding on the lower side was scattered about in almost every direction.

A number of buildings in the village were more or less injured, among which were the drug store of Briggs & Francis, dwelling and store occupied by Mr. Danbendner, Davis's brewery, and Sutten's saw-mill, together with a number of others similarly damaged, although not materially.

with a number of others similarly damaged, although not materially.

The country all around the vicinity was more or less desolated by the tornado, which seemed to gather in strength and velocity as it passed. Numerous stables, barns and other buildings were prestrated, none of which, considering the general rain, seem to be worthy of detail, although they assist materially, when taken collectively, in swelling the aggregate loss.

THE STORM AT NEW BICHMOND.

At New Richmond the roof was blown off.

At New Richmond the roof was blown off a brick house on Front street, carried over one square, and, landing against the dwelling

The tower was blown off the United Presbyterian Church. Loss $300.

GREENFIELD Methodist Church blown down. Loss, $0,000. Catholic Church mroofed. Loss, $300. The Seminary partially unroofed—was full of children at the time, but none hurt. Damages, $500. The office of Dunlap & Waddle was destroyed. Loss, $600. A number of stables and out-buildings demolished.

LEESBURG. Two fine dwelling-houses and the Universalist Church unroofed. A house near this town, that stands on an eminence surrounded by trees, was unharmed, while the trees about it were all prostrated.

Several houses unroofed—loss not over $1,000. Railroad Depot unroofed. The roof was of sheet iron and blown full half a mile.
Loss $600.

The school-house was blown down, but although full of children, no lives were lost. A church was torn to pieces and a number of outhouses demolished. Loss $8,000.

... LETTLE MIAMI BAILWAY.

Board of City improvements.—At the regular semi-weekly session of the Board of City improvements, held yesterday morning, the sealed proposals offered were opened, and on motion of Mr. Stagge, the contract to paye with brick the unpayed sidewalks on Revertistreet, from Linn to Freeman, was awarded to Jetson Bainbridge, at 49 cents per square, yard.

On motion of Mr. Hoston, the contract to repair with brick the unpayed sidewalks on Mound-street, from Court to Fifth, was awarded to Jetson Bainbridge, at 49 3-10 cents per square yard.

On motion of Mr. Stagge, the following repairs of accepted bowldered streets were ordered:

Vine-street, from Thirteenth to Fifteenth,

Island, lost her chimneys and pilot-house, while the steamer Eurice, near the same place, was completely wroked.

At Madison three pairs of conl-boats were lost and eight Evre; at Warsaw three, at Yevay one, at Price's Landing one; at Craig's Bar one; at Ghent two and sixteen lives, at Chilo seach sight and pivater lives, at Chilo reach eight and nineten lives at New-ton two and two lives; at Higginsport lives at Carrolton a salt-beat was sunk and seven lives fort-making a total of twenty-live party us sveniy-two real-boats which were totally lost, valued in the aggreate at nearly $100,-000.

The steam-tugs Lioness, Shingess and Coal Hill were each more or less severely damaged.

The loss at Portsmouth, Chio, has been estimated at half a million of dollars; at Athens, where several dwellings and two churches were unroofed, at $6,000; at Marjetta the damage was slight; at Ripley, $6,000; at Nerilla a Baptist church was unroofed-alamage $500; while at Carthage, Patriot, Moscow and other towns, both above and below this point, the injury seems to have been almost incalculable.

THE STORM AT MADISON, 18D. A terrible burricane passed over this city Monday afternoon, unroofing six or eight buildings. No lives were tost. Three or four pairs of coal-boats were sunk immediately above the city, and aix men are missing. The steamer Eusace was partially wrecked near Ghent, Ky. Her cabin and chimneys were blown overboard, together with a quantity of freight. The steamer Argyle lost her chimneys near Utics; not injured otherwise. The Jacob Strader, rode out the storm uninjured. The wharf-boats at Patriot, Ghent, Veyay and Carrolton were torn from their Vexay and Carrolton were torn from their moorings and carried up the river and wrecked.

With the facts we have given above for a basis, the most vivid imaginations might run riot without reaching a complete idea of the damage caused by the terrific tornado. It can only be enumerated by millions, and even with their aid we doubt very much whether the sum total could be told. It is simpossible to detail the loss of life, but news have reached us to the effect that seventy-five persons have been killed or drowned, and the city is filled with reports involving the lives of twenty-five more.

For nine hundred miles along the Chio River the tornado raged with a feroeity that appears to have been terrific, and we doubt whether, even in the tropics, one has been known to extend so far, and be the cause of so much damage.

The President stated that the object of the meeting was to prepare for the Presidential campaign now opening. He then paid a high compliment to Governor Chase and Mr. Lincoln, declaring that it was the latter that forever blasted Douglas's prospects for the Presidency, by making him avow the doctrine of "unfriendly legislation." That doctrine of "unfriendly legislation." That doctrine was the last nail in the diminutive giant's coffin.

Mr. Gitchell offered the following resolutions, which were adopted unanimously:

HAMILTON COUNTY DISTRICT COURT.

Martha Pollock es. Adams & Co. Jury trial. In 1852 the plaintiff deposited with Adams & Co., in Sacramento City, two bundred and twenty-eight ounces of gold-dust to be forwarded to Unclimati. It was sent to Philadelphia, and was thence forwarded over the line of the Western Express to Cincinnati. On its arrival here, the agent of Adams Express Co., George Mowton, by request of plaintiff, had it converted into money, and she left it with him, and furnished also an additional sum, amounting in the aggregate to $4,581, to be invested on bond or mottgage security at ten percent.—otherwise it was to draw six per cent. The receipt was signed "Adams & Co." The money was deposited in the bank of Ellis & Sturges.

The defendants allege they are not liable; first, on the ground that the Adams & Co., with whom the deposit was made in Sacramento City, was not connected with Adams & Co. & Express; and next, that Mowton, the agent of the company in Cincinnati, was not authorized to receive money for investment.
